GIVING BACK: A FULL CIRCLE

When the alumni of Deepstambh Manobal step forward and support other students, is always a great proud moment.

We are proud to share that alumna Prakash Sawant (Orphan), currently serving in Mumbai Police, contributed ₹60,000 to support the education of Divyang and Orphan students.

This reflects a strong value — students who benefit from the system continue to support others.

MANOBAL PARENTING SCHEME

SUPPORT THAT GOES BEYOND EDUCATION

What is something that never reduces when shared, but only grows? Selfless love.

Many students from PwD and orphan backgrounds grow up without consistent family support and guidance. While access to education is important, emotional connection, encouragement, and a sense of belonging also play an important role in helping young students lead a successful and happy life.

At Deepstambh Foundation's Manobal, students receive support for higher education, competitive exam preparation, residential facilities, food, mentorship, and personality development. However, beyond these facilities, many students continue to need emotional support, motivation, and human connection.

The Manobal Parenting Scheme was started to bridge this gap.

Through this initiative, individuals and families can become part of a student's journey by offering support, guidance, and encouragement during important years of their education and personal growth.

HOW CAN YOU PARTICIPATE?

- Support a student's educational and residential needs.
- Stay connected through regular phone calls and interactions.
- Meet students occasionally and encourage them personally.
- Contribute financially towards a student's future.
- Over time, this becomes more than support — it becomes a meaningful relationship built on care, trust, and responsibility.
- We invite all to become part of this journey and help students move towards dignified, independent, and confident futures.
